

| SEARCH BLOG | | FLAG BLOG | Next Blog»

Create Blog | Sign In

DAVE'S HORROR REVIEWS

MY REVIEWS OF MOVIES, BOOKS, MUSIC, GAMES, AND JUST ABOUT ANYTHING ELSE I FEEL LIKE REVIEWING, AS WELL AS NEWS FROM THE HORROR AND FANTASY WORLD. I CAN BE REACHED BY E-MAIL AT: DAVESHORRORREVIEWS@HOTMAIL.COM

THURSDAY, JANUARY 03, 2008

DVD Review: The Blood Shed

ABOUT ME

DAVE
VIEW MY COMPLETE PROFILE

CHECK OUT THESE OFFERS!

Hurry! Try Columbia House DVD Club today and get 5 DVDs for 49 cents each with membership! Add 1 more DVD to get FREE SHIPPING!

Inbred backwoods cannibals, living in the Pine Barrens of New Jersey? What is this, a documentary? I think I noticed a few of my neighbors in this film! Yep, The Blood Shed brings the murderous inbred hillbilly genre to the Garden State, and man, is it an enjoyable ride! This film has it all - blood, laughs, snarling, roadkill, psychotic grandmothers, ball busting, Little LuLu - I mean everthing! The mastermind behind this film is Alan Rowe Kelly, who also happens to play "12-year old" Beeftina. The film is directed perfectly and you can really tell the actors relish their roles, playing it up as effectively as ever. Plenty of violence, B-movie gore and black humor make The Blood Shed easily one of my favorite movies of 2007. The film, as low budget as it is, features remarkably good quality in both video and audio. From this point on, when I'm asked for a movie recommendation, The Blood Shed will definitely be at the top of the list. The Blood Shed drips ***** out of *****. It's a perfect movie!

POSTED BY DAVE AT 2:33 PM